

FLL Master Plan Public Open House Workshop Thursday, February 15, 2018

The Broward County Aviation Department (BCAD) is updating the Master Plan for Broward County's Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport (FLL). The Master Plan is designed to establish a roadmap for incremental development to meet future aviation demand and other airport needs. BCAD is working with a consultant for technical support with funding assistance from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT). An Airport Master Plan is a comprehensive study that describes short, medium and long-term improvements proposed for the airport.

The Master Planning process is designed as an inclusive process that encourages citizen participation. A public open house workshop will be held to provide information on the study process, forecasts of activity, facility requirements, and preliminary development and airport improvement alternatives. Representatives from the Aviation Department and the Consultant team will be available to answer questions and receive comments on the ongoing Master Planning analyses and tasks completed to date.

The Open House will be held:

751 Sheridan Street, Hollywood, Florida 33019

DATE: Thursday, February 15, 2018
